SEEING BEYOND –
STATE LEADERSHIP, NATIONAL PROGRESS

35th Annual Legislative Conference
December 7–11, 2011
Renaissance Chicago Downtown Hotel
Chicago, IL
Dear Members and Supporters:

The National Black Caucus of State Legislators (NBCSL) convened for our 35th Annual Legislative Conference (ALC) at the Renaissance Chicago Downtown Hotel, in Chicago, Illinois from December 7-11, 2011.

NBCSL’s nearly 650 legislators represent over 50 million Americans from 44 states, the District of Columbia, and the U.S. Virgin Islands and hail from rural, urban, and suburban districts. They represent the low income, middle class, and wealthy from all ethnic and religious backgrounds. Yet, what distinguishes NBCSL from other legislator associations is our unwavering commitment to viewing and analyzing policy from the perspective of the disenfranchised and underserved.

We are pleased to send you the 2012 Policy Resolutions, which were ratified by the full body of NBCSL members on Friday, December 9, 2011. Our resolutions communicate what we believe are the greatest challenges facing constituents and the actions that should be taken to remedy those challenges at the state and federal levels. Often, these resolutions serve as the basis for actual legislation.

The National Black Caucus of State Legislators works diligently to disseminate these resolutions and meet with the nation’s leaders so they may incorporate them into policymaking decisions. We ask that you share these resolutions with your colleagues, build on them in your statehouses, and please let us know about your legislative successes. In 2012, the National Black Caucus of State Legislators will provide more opportunities for our members to exchange ideas and launch coordinated legislative campaigns. And, these resolutions are at the very center of it all.

It is a privilege and honor to serve as your president and I look forward to working with you throughout the year as we continue to open doors, create opportunities, and provide a voice for our constituents.

Sincerely,

Barbara W. Ballard (KS)
President, NBCSL

IN RECOGNITION AND SUPPORT OF MINORITY AUTOMOBILE DEALERS

WHEREAS, the number of ethnic minority automobile dealers in the United States has declined dramatically since 2008;

WHEREAS, according to the National Association of Minority Owned Dealers, on January 1, 2008, there were 1,325 ethnic minority-owned automobile dealerships, and on January 1, 2011, there were just 921. Black-owned automobile dealers were the hardest hit in this recession with a decline of 50 percent, as their numbers during that same period were reduced from 523 to just 261;

WHEREAS, the forced closure of automobile dealerships has had a devastating financial impact on both the dealership owners and their communities due to the loss of jobs;

WHEREAS, during the recession, domestic automobile manufacturers significantly reduced ethnic minority Dealer Development Programs, which had made access to the ownership of automobile dealerships possible for minorities;

WHEREAS, the decline in the number of ethnic minority automobile dealers continues due, in large part, to the lack of access to capital and floor plan financing loans;

WHEREAS, since 2009, a large number of floor plan lenders have exited the market because of their inability to sell their loans on the secondary market;

WHEREAS, because of the severe decrease of automobile dealer floor plan financing and working capital loans, a new program to provide each of these loans is vital to the reinstatement of ethnic minority automobile dealers;

WHEREAS, an Ethnic Minority Dealer Financing (EMDF) Program will provide the access to capital many ethnic minority automobile dealers need at this critical time, as they go through the transition brought on by larger changes within the domestic automobile industry;

WHEREAS, with the increasing presence of international name plates opening manufacturing facilities in the United States that lack ethnic minority automobile dealer representation in their dealer body, such entities must also be required to implement a Dealer Development Program that allows ethnic minority automobile dealers to participate;

WHEREAS, the EMDF Program would provide working capital, lock in term loans, and provide stable floor plan financing for terminated and displaced dealers so they may take advantage of opportunities to reenter the automobile dealership market during these tough economic times;

WHEREAS, the EMDF Program would increase the viability and success of ethnic minority dealers as well as create jobs;

WHEREAS, the EMDF Program would give first priority to those ethnic minority automobile dealers, which General Motors, Chrysler, and Ford terminated between 2008-2011, and then to ethnic minorities who are struggling to maintain their dealerships due to the lack of access to capital, and finally to ethnic minorities entering the automobile dealership industry;
WHEREAS, the EMDF Program would provide long-term, fixed-rate, and revolving financing to provide working capital, floor plan lending, and real estate financing (such a plan would require a contribution of at least 15 percent equity from the automobile dealer for acquisition cost; a floor plan loan from a lender covering up to 100 percent of the vehicle cost, guaranteed by the Original Equipment Manufacturer (OEM) and the dealer; a working capital loan, with the OEM covering up to 35 percent of the acquisition cost; and a real estate loan of 70 percent from a bank and 30 percent OEM financing);

WHEREAS, it is estimated that as many as 1,000 ethnic minority automobile dealers may ultimately participate in such a program;

WHEREAS, the program could be completely funded by the reinstatement of OEM Dealer Development Programs and the enactment of a requirement that those international manufacturers who manufacture automobiles in the United States implement such a Dealer Development Program, thus at no cost to the taxpayer;

WHEREAS, all such loans would be made through private lenders to creditworthy dealers and dealerships that meet the lender’s requirements and demonstrate sound finances and a viable business plan (the maximum term for an EMDF Program working capital loan would be seven years and twenty years for a real estate loan, with the floor plan financing only covering titleable inventory and the lenders controlling title transfer as a means of risk mitigation); and

WHEREAS, the creation of such a program would create jobs across this great nation, in addition to increasing economic development in those communities hit hard by the continuing international financial crisis.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the National Black Caucus of State Legislators (NBCSL) and its members hereby urge the establishment and creation of an Ethnic Minority Dealers Financing Program, housed within the United States Department of Commerce;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL requests that automobile manufacturers should do everything possible to prevent the termination of ethnic minority automobile dealers for at least the next five years;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL supports increasing diversity in the appointment of minority automobile dealers within a five-year time frame, so that ethnic minorities own at least 15 percent of domestic automobile dealerships, even though they represent over 35 percent of the total U.S. population and growing;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL urges a priority for appointment to new dealerships be afforded to ethnic minority automobile dealers that have previously been displaced or terminated because of the recession; and

BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, members of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate, and other federal and state government officials as appropriate.

SUPPORTING GREATER FINANCIAL LITERACY AND HELP FOR CONSUMERS TO IMPROVE THEIR CREDIT REPORT AND SCORES

WHEREAS, credit scores are widely used by financial institutions to assess eligibility for mortgages, credit cards, student loans, personal loans, retail credit, and other consumer credit;

WHEREAS, the National Black Caucus of State Legislators (NBCSL) and its members believe all consumers, and particularly African American consumers, need free access to financial information that can help them better understand how they can improve their creditworthiness and obtain greater access to credit on better terms;

WHEREAS, Resolution 06-62 expressed the NBCSL's support for legislation that would assist financially underserved consumers so that they may build or rebuild their credit and obtain greater access to affordable credit;

WHEREAS, Resolution BFI-09-22 established the policy of the NBCSL to support a “credit card holders’ Bill of Rights” where consumers would be protected from overcharging and undue practices of financial institutions to take advantage of financial illiteracy among challenged populations;

WHEREAS, Resolution BFI-10-02 instituted detailed policy for the NBCSL supporting greater credit rehabilitation and financial literacy resources for consumers, including mainstream financial instrument transition services and the creation of a strong consumer financial protection agency;

WHEREAS, over 40 percent of Americans are estimated to have low credit scores and are thereby considered financially underserved borrowers;

WHEREAS, the United States Congress has repeatedly stressed the importance of increasing transparency of credit reports and credit scores through amendments to the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA), the Fair and Accurate Credit Transactions Act of 2003 (the FACT Act), the Credit CARD Act of 2009, and the Dodd/Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010;

WHEREAS, the FACT Act amended the FCRA and provided consumers with several new rights, among them the ability to do the following: 1) request a free copy of their credit report every 12 months from each of the nationwide credit reporting agencies; 2) purchase a credit score from a credit reporting agency for a reasonable fee; and, 3) receive a disclosure of a credit score from a mortgage lender after applying for a mortgage loan;

WHEREAS, the FACT Act also required the Federal Reserve Board (FRB) and Federal Trade Commission (FTC) to issue a “risk-based pricing” (RBP) rule to require notice when a creditor uses a credit report to set the credit terms and offers credit to a consumer on material terms. The final rule, which took effect January 1, 2011, also allows a creditor, in lieu of an RBP notice, to provide a credit score disclosure to all its credit applicants. The RBP rule may create millions of notices to consumers every year, and each notice will provide the name, address, and phone number of the nationwide credit reporting agency that provided the credit report and score;

WHEREAS, amendments to the FCRA in 2010, added a requirement that a credit score disclosure be included in all adverse action and RBP notices whenever a credit score is used in making the adverse action or RBP decision beginning July 21, 2011;

WHEREAS, amendments to the FCRA may result in millions of score disclosures to consumers annually, with each disclosure telling consumers how to contact the specific nationwide credit reporting agency that provided the score;

WHEREAS, many consumers who read these disclosures and contact the nationwide credit reporting agencies to ask questions about how their credit scores are determined and/or what actions they can take to improve their particular credit scores may find that these agencies are limited by the Credit Repair Organizations Act (CROA) from providing some individualized assistance to consumers;

WHEREAS, some of the provisions contained in CROA prevent deceptive practices of credit repair organizations that promise consumers they can remove negative, but accurate, information from a credit report;

WHEREAS, consumers should be able to request from nationwide credit reporting agencies information and specific recommendations about what legitimate actions they can take to improve their individual credit reports and credit scores;

WHEREAS, according to the Pew Research Center study in 2009, the typical net worth was $5,677 for African Americans, $6,325 for Latinos, and $113,149 for Caucasians; further, the study showed that one-third of African American and Latino households had zero or negative net worth that year, while the same was true for only 15 percent of Caucasian households; and

WHEREAS, another 2009 study conducted by the Pew Charitable Trust Economic Mobility Project showed that a person was 21 percent more likely to move out of poverty if he or she had a savings account at a young age.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the National Black Caucus of State Legislators (NBCSL) calls upon the United States Congress to enact legislation affirming the following:

(a) nationwide consumer reporting agencies can create, promote, and maintain a resource whereby consumers can be provided information and specific recommendations about what legitimate actions they can take to improve their individual credit reports and credit scores;

(b) such a resource to help financially underserved consumers improve their credit report and scores would not violate Credit Repair Organizations Act; and

(c) some resources, aids, and reports should be provided to consumers at no charge and at no detriment to their credit rating;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL applauds the creation of the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau that was created under the Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act and opposes any attempts to weaken this new agency;
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL supports efforts both privately and publicly that would aid young children in establishing savings accounts and provide greater financial education at a young age to help educate the next generation on financial management; and

BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, members of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate, and other federal and state government officials as appropriate.

MODERNIZE THE FEDERAL TOXIC SUBSTANCE CONTROL ACT OF 1976

WHEREAS, children and pregnant women are uniquely vulnerable to the health threats of toxic chemicals, and early life chemical exposures have been linked to chronic disease later in life;

WHEREAS, a growing body of peer-reviewed scientific evidence links exposure to toxic chemicals to many diseases and health conditions that are rising in incidence, including childhood cancers, prostate cancer, breast cancer, learning and developmental disabilities, infertility, and obesity;

WHEREAS, the President’s Cancer Panel report released in May 2010, states, “The true burden of environmentally-induced cancers has been grossly underestimated,” and the panel advised President Barack Obama “to use the power of your office to remove the carcinogens and other toxins from our food, water, and air that needlessly increase health care cost, cripple our nation’s productivity, and devastate American lives”;

WHEREAS, workers in a range of industries are exposed to toxic chemicals which pose threats to their health, increasing worker absenteeism, workers’ compensation claims, and health care costs that burden the economy;

WHEREAS, a recent national poll found that 78 percent of American voters were seriously concerned about the threat to children’s health from exposure to toxic chemicals in day-to-day life;

WHEREAS, states bear an undue burden from toxic chemicals, including health care costs and environmental damages, disadvantaging businesses that lack information on chemicals in their supply chain, and increasing demands for state regulation;

WHEREAS, the Federal Toxic Substances Control Act of 1976 (TSCA;15 U.S.C Sec. 2601 et seq.), the primary governing federal statute, was intended to authorize the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to protect public health and the environment from toxic chemicals;

WHEREAS, TSCA has been recognized as having challenges that prevent the EPA from taking quick and effective regulatory action to protect the public against chemical threats;

WHEREAS, in January 2009, the United States General Accountability Office (GAO) added the EPA’s regulatory program for assessing and controlling toxic chemicals to its list of “high risk” government programs that may have some deficiencies;

WHEREAS, the National Conference of State Legislatures unanimously adopted a resolution in July 2009, that articulated principles for the reform of TSCA and called on the United States Congress to update the law;

WHEREAS, in August 2010, the Environmental Council of the States (ECOS), the national association of state environmental agency directors, unanimously adopted a resolution entitled “Reforming the Toxic Substance Control Act,” which endorsed specific policy reforms including making certain the EPA has adequate authority to ensure existing new chemicals are safe;
WHEREAS, ten states have come together to launch the Interstate Chemicals Clearinghouse (IC2) to coordinate state chemical information management programs, and a coalition of thirteen states issued guiding principles for TSCA reform;

WHEREAS, seventy-one state laws on chemical safety have been enacted and signed into law in eighteen states with broad bi-partisan support over the last eight years;

WHEREAS, the State of California’s policy leadership regarding chemical management is outstanding and warrants close examination by the National Black Caucus of State Legislators and its members;

WHEREAS, the TSCA Modernization effort presents a rare opportunity to bolster sustainable innovation within the chemical sciences industry to create jobs and eliminate the toxicity of older, more harmful substances; and

WHEREAS, legislation to substantially reform TSCA was introduced during the 109th Congress in 2005, the 110th Congress in 2008, and again in the 111th Congress in 2010.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the National Black Caucus of State Legislators (NBCSL) urges the President of the United States and the 112th United States Congress to enact federal legislation to modernize the Federal Toxic Substances Control Act of 1976 by strengthening chemical management through policy reforms that would encourage the following:

(a) producers and importers to perform comprehensive toxicity testing on their products and to fully disclose the results of their testing;

(b) producers and importers to disclose the identities of chemicals in their products;

(c) the authorization of the EPA to require a safer alternatives assessment for any chemical it identifies as a “Priority Chemical,” such as Persistent Bioaccumulative Toxins (PBTs), and other priority toxic chemicals, to which there is already widespread exposure;

(c) preservation of the authority of state and tribal governments to operate chemical management programs that are more protective than the programs established by the federal government, and resources to be provided for state-level implementation;

(d) establishment of health safety standards for chemicals that rely on the best available science to protect the most vulnerable, including children and the developing fetus;

(e) expansion of the EPA’s authority to test, assess, regulate, take expedited action, and impose interim conditions in evaluating the impact of chemicals on our environment;

(f) enhancement of timely state/federal consultation and coordination in areas of particular concern to the states, including the development and implementation of Hot Spot action plans, prioritization of the most severely impacted communities, and provision of funding to state and local governments to conduct chemicals management technical assistance; and

(g) facilitation of the development of a trained workforce to strengthen and enhance sustainable chemistry research, development, and adoption while stimulating innovation, business, and job creation; and
BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, members of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate, and other federal and state government officials as appropriate.

THE ROLE OF STATE REGULATORY POLICIES IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF FEDERAL ENVIRONMENTAL REGULATIONS

WHEREAS, the National Black Caucus of State Legislators (NBCSL) recognizes that the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) is engaged in the development of public health and environmental regulations that will directly impact the electric power sector;

WHEREAS, the EPA is expected to promulgate regulations to be implemented by state environmental regulators concerning the interstate transport of sulfur dioxide and nitrogen oxides, cooling water intake, emissions of hazardous air pollutants and greenhouse gases, release of toxic and thermal pollution into waterways, and management of coal combustion solid waste;

WHEREAS, the NBCSL has extensive energy policies establishing priorities around alternative energy sources, as passed in Resolutions ETE-09-23, ETE-10-07, and ETE-11-02; protecting the financially vulnerable populations that are most impacted by fluctuations in energy supply pricing, as passed in Resolutions ETE-08-04 and ETE-10-06; and creating opportunities for minority interests in energy markets, as passed in Resolutions ETE-98-41 and ETE-07-24;

WHEREAS, such regulations under consideration by the EPA could pose challenges for the electric power sector, with respect to the economic burden, the feasibility of implementation by the contemplated deadlines, and the maintenance of system reliability;

WHEREAS, the EPA is expected to provide opportunities for public comment and input with respect to forthcoming regulations;

WHEREAS, compliance with forthcoming environmental regulations will impact consumers differently depending upon each state’s electricity market and the nature of the decisions made by state regulators;

WHEREAS, state utility regulators are positioned to evaluate costs and benefits of various resource options through policies that account for the risks arising from compliance with pending regulations;

WHEREAS, cooperation between utility commissions and environmental regulators can promote greater policy coordination, integration, and improve the quality and effectiveness of electricity sector regulation; and

WHEREAS, state utility regulators, by working with the power sector and state and federal environmental regulators, can help to facilitate optimal results for public health and environmental goals.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the National Black Caucus of State Legislators (NBCSL) urges the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to ensure that as it develops public health and environmental programs, it will do the following:

(a) avoid compromising energy system reliability, while seeking to move the nation toward long-term energy independence and sustainability;
(b) seek ways to minimize cost impacts to consumers, while ensuring long-term health costs to both our communities and our environment are taken into account;

(c) provide regulations that protect the health and well-being of our citizens;

(d) protect environment and vulnerable ecosystems from further degradation;

(e) ensure its actions do not impair the availability of adequate electricity and natural gas resources;

(f) consider cumulative economic and reliability impacts in the process of developing multiple environmental rules that impact the electricity sector;

(g) recognize the needs of states and regions to deploy a diverse portfolio of resources based on the unique circumstances of each state and region;

(h) encourage the development of innovative, multi-pollutant reduction solutions;

(i) employ cost-benefit analyses consistent with federal law;

(j) provide an appropriate degree of flexibility and timeframes for compliance that recognizes the highly localized and regional nature of the provision of electricity services in the United States, as long as that flexibility does not compromise the objective of the regulations to protect the integrity of ecosystems and the health of our public waterways;

(k) engage in timely and meaningful dialogue with state energy regulators in pursuit of these objectives; and

(l) recognize and account for, state or regional efforts already undertaken to address environmental challenges;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL urges the development of grant programs and corporate partnerships that support low-income individuals and families to transition to green practices;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL urges state utility regulators to actively engage with state and federal environmental regulators and to take other appropriate actions in furtherance of the goals of this resolution; and

BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, members of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate, and other federal and state government officials as appropriate.

RECOGNIZING THE NEED TO IMPROVE THE DIAGNOSIS AND TREATMENT OF DIABETES

WHEREAS, the National Black Caucus of State Legislators (NBCSL) has passed extensive policy regarding diabetes treatment and expanded its policy base regarding this issue perenniially over the past decade (including Resolutions HHS-10-11, HHS-10-20, HHS-07-27, and HHS-06-50), as further research and greater technological advances in the screening and treatment of diabetes have prompted updates to the Caucus’s policy coverage of this important concern;

WHEREAS, diabetes is a serious, costly, and an increasingly common chronic disease that affects almost 26 million Americans, or eight percent of the total population, with millions more at risk for the disease;

WHEREAS, diabetes contributes to more than 231,000 deaths per year and is the seventh leading cause of death by disease in the United States;

WHEREAS, the direct and indirect costs of diabetes are over $174 billion per year, and minority populations suffer from diabetes at rates much higher than the general population and have the highest rates of complications of the disease;

WHEREAS, 4.9 million African Americans or 18.7 percent of all African Americans over the age of 20 live with diabetes;

WHEREAS, African Americans are twice as likely to be diagnosed with diabetes than Caucasians;

WHEREAS, African Americans experience higher rates of some of the most serious complications of diabetes--being 2.3 times more likely to suffer from lower limb amputations, 2.2 times more likely to suffer from kidney disease, and 2.3 times as likely to die from diabetes;

WHEREAS, diabetes is frequently undiagnosed until complications appear, and approximately one-third of all people with diabetes may go undiagnosed;

WHEREAS, unlike detection when an individual exhibits symptoms or signs of the disease, screening is conducted to identify asymptomatic individuals who are likely to have diabetes, and the NBCSL supports the expert opinion that screening should be considered by health care providers at one-year intervals beginning at age 35, or more frequently in cases where individuals are overweight and/or have two or more other risk factors, such as family history of diabetes or hypertension;

WHEREAS, the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (ACA) provides short-term access to health insurance coverage for individuals with pre-existing conditions, including diabetes, and restricts the ability of insurers to limit coverage based on such pre-existing conditions beginning in 2014;

WHEREAS, the ACA also eliminates the use of annual or lifetime dollar limits on coverage, which provides relief from some of the cost burden for people with diabetes whose medical expenses are, on average, twice as high as people without diabetes; and
WHEREAS, the ACA improves diabetes prevention efforts by requiring coverage of diabetes screening recommended by the United States Preventive Services Task Force and funding grants to support primary prevention activities under Medicaid, including efforts to avoid the onset of diabetes and to provide disease management for individuals with diabetes and wellness initiatives by states and communities to reduce the effects of chronic diseases, such as diabetes.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the National Black Caucus of State Legislators (NBSCL) supports innovative approaches that allow states to implement efforts to prevent, diagnose, and treat diabetes while reducing the burdens associated with the disease for African Americans living with or at-risk for diabetes;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL urges the United States Congress to appropriate dollars for diabetes-related projects authorized but not funded under the ACA, including the National Diabetes Prevention Program to support lifestyle intervention programs to prevent type 2 diabetes as well as Healthy Aging and Living Well Grants for public health interventions including identifying risk factors for diabetes in adults age 55 to 64;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL further urges the Secretary of the United States Department of Health and Human Services to prepare, in a timely and comprehensive manner, the National Diabetes Report Card and State Diabetes Report Card required by the ACA;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL urges state officials to develop programs in response to opportunities provided under the ACA to improve prevention and education efforts related to diabetes, and to ensure those efforts reach high-risk African Americans groups;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL calls upon medical and health officials in the public and private sector to increase efforts to identify individuals with undiagnosed diabetes or pre-diabetes, drawing on lessons learned from cancer screening initiatives such as programs intended to encourage women to receive mammograms;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL urges the United States Preventive Services Task Force to continually evaluate the evidence about the benefits, harms, and costs of screening and its role to reduce the burden of persons suffering with diabetes, and to respond, in a timely manner, to the introduction of any new evidence that supports expanding screening;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL encourages researchers and clinicians to conduct studies to clarify the benefits of screening efforts and those persons who should be screened to reduce the prevalence of diabetes and complications from the disease;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL also calls upon the United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention to work with state officials to improve collection of vital statistics including information on diabetes; training for physicians on completing death certificates, as required by the ACA; and improve the funding needed to effectively carry out these endeavors;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBSCL urges the Secretary of the United States Department of Health and Human Services, the Institute of Medicine, and other relevant groups to carefully evaluate the extensive impact of diabetes on the delivery of healthcare and the appropriateness of diabetes medical education in developing the Report Card to the United States Congress mandated by the ACA;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL supports improvements, including more funding, under the ACA of data collection efforts to better identify and evaluate health care disparities, including those related to race; and
BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED, that copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, members of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate, the United States Secretary of Health and Human Services, the Director of the United States Centers for Disease Control, and other elected officials as appropriate.

WOMEN’S HEART HEALTH INITIATIVE—A CALL TO ACTION

WHEREAS, heart disease, often called the “silent killer,” continues to be the number one killer of women, causing a woman to die from heart disease every 60 seconds;

WHEREAS, heart disease claims more women’s lives than the next eight causes of death combined, including breast cancer;

WHEREAS, two-thirds of American women who die suddenly from heart disease had no prior symptoms;

WHEREAS, African American women and Latina women have higher heart disease and stroke risk factors than Caucasian women of comparable socioeconomic status, with heart disease being the number one killer of African American women;

WHEREAS, increasing the number of women of different races and various age groups in cardiovascular clinical trials is pivotal to identifying the best treatment options for heart disease and stroke in all women;

WHEREAS, continuation of programs such as “Go Red for Women,” led by the American Heart Association (AHA), and WISEWOMAN, created by the Centers for Disease Control (CDC), are designed to improve prevention through early diagnosis connected with the ability to access the best treatment, are vital to addressing women’s heart health; and

WHEREAS, the Women's Heart Health Initiative (WHHI) explores a non-traditional venue to provide additional cardiovascular screening for women during their OB/GYN office visits that can be of further assistance to health care providers in early identification, education, and the prevention of heart disease.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the National Black Caucus of State Legislators (NBCSL) recognizes there is a monumental need for “A Call to Action,” to devise strategies, with a strong emphasis on recognizing the warning signs of a cardiovascular event, that encompasses socioeconomic factors, cultural barriers, and lifestyle choices for those women at highest risk, thereby decreasing the deaths of one in three women dying of heart disease and stroke each year;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the National Black Caucus of State Legislators encourages its members and all of their legislative colleagues to create public policy to be implemented and monitored through their respective state departments of health by allowing the department to establish and collaborate with private partners to raise awareness and promote education of heart disease, to increase screening programs that will identify risk factors in women to aid in the early detection and prevention of heart disease, to ensure access to medical treatment protocols for heart disease, and lastly, to provide suggestions and support for lifestyle choices that contribute to the management of heart disease for those women at highest risk, in order to improve the quality of life for all women; and
BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, members of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate, and other federal and state government officials as appropriate.

GO RED FOR WOMEN DAY—FEBRUARY 3, 2012

WHEREAS, diseases of the heart are the nation’s leading causes of death; stroke is ranked as the fourth overall leading cause;

WHEREAS, cardiovascular disease claims the lives of over 421,000 American females each year—approximately one female per minute dies from heart disease;

WHEREAS, each year, 52 percent of all cardiovascular disease-related and 60 percent of all stroke-related deaths occur in females;

WHEREAS, high blood pressure is more prevalent in certain racial/ethnic minority groups in the United States, especially in African Americans, for whom the prevalence is among the highest in the world;

WHEREAS, too many women die each year because of their lack of awareness about heart disease as the number one killer of women. Nearly as many women die of heart disease, stroke, and all other cardiovascular diseases than the next four leading causes of death combined, including all cancers;

WHEREAS, only 16 percent of women surveyed in 2009 identified cardiovascular disease as the greatest health problem facing them;

WHEREAS, Go Red For Women® is the American Heart Association’s national call to increase awareness about heart disease—the leading cause of death for women—and to inspire women to take charge of their heart health;

WHEREAS, all women should learn their own personal risk for heart disease by talking to their healthcare providers; and

WHEREAS, making the right choices related to proper nutrition, physical activity, and other healthy lifestyle choices is essential to a heart healthy life style.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the National Black Caucus of State Legislators (NBCSL), in recognition of the importance of the ongoing fight against heart disease and stroke in women, hereby acknowledges support for Friday, February 3, 2012, as “National Wear Red Day”;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL urges its members to show support for women and the fight against heart disease by commemorating this day by the wearing of the color red on February 3, 2012, and by speaking out about heart disease, thus empowering women to reduce their risk for cardiovascular disease and saving thousands of lives each year;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that in recognition of the importance of making all women aware of the risk factors and warning signs of heart disease, the NBCSL urges its members to “Make It Their Mission to Help Save Lives” through the introduction of legislation in their home states;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL urges its members to educate their constituents about the risk factors for heart disease in women through participation in Go Red For Women® during the month of February, and by sharing Go Red For Women® messages in their newsletters and town hall meetings; and
BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, members of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate, and other federal and state government officials as appropriate.

ENCOURAGING ADULT IMMUNIZATION

WHEREAS, vaccines have been widely cited as one of the ten great public health achievements of the 20th and 21st centuries, responsible for helping to increase life expectancy in the United States by over 25 years between 1900-1999, and directly credited for saving hundreds of thousands of lives in the United States and millions around the world;

WHEREAS, significant strides have been made to increase vaccine uptake rates and reduce vaccine-preventable diseases among children in the United States;

WHEREAS, the United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP) recommend immunization for adults against 14 different vaccine-preventable diseases, including influenza, tetanus, diphtheria, pertussis (whooping cough), varicella (chickenpox), human papilloma virus (HPV), zoster (shingles), measles, mumps, rubella, pneumococcal disease (pneumonia), meningococcal disease (meningitis), hepatitis A, and hepatitis B;

WHEREAS, despite the recommendations from experts about the effectiveness and safety of adult vaccines, immunization rates remain low and far below national targets;

WHEREAS, although immunization rates are low among all adults, substantial racial and ethnic disparities exist, with immunization rates among African Americans and Hispanics/Latinos substantially lower than the rates of their white counterparts;

WHEREAS, during the 2010-2011 influenza season, 44 percent of Caucasians were vaccinated, whereas only 40 percent of Hispanics/Latinos and 39 percent of African Americans received vaccinations;

WHEREAS, between 40,000 and 50,000 adults die annually from vaccine-preventable diseases in the United States;

WHEREAS, the CDC estimates the direct healthcare burden of adult vaccine-preventable diseases at $10 billion annually;

WHEREAS, the Institute of Medicine (IOM) has stated that one of the six causes of excess costs in the United States healthcare system is missed prevention opportunities;

WHEREAS, millions of American adults go without routine and recommended vaccinations because our medical system is not designed to ensure that adults receive regular preventive healthcare; and

WHEREAS, it is important to acknowledge that vaccinations are not without risks and medical professionals dispersing vaccines are required to make all substantive disclosures regarding the risks associated with receiving a certain vaccine.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the National Black Caucus of State Legislators (NBCSL) states unwavering support for Adult Immunization Awareness and urge all citizens to speak with their healthcare providers to ensure their vaccinations are current, and all providers and policymakers work to remove barriers to vaccination and protect adults from vaccine-preventable diseases;
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL applauds the Affordable Care Act provisions passed by the United States Congress, requiring preventative care, including immunizations to be covered at no costs to the patient; and

BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, members of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate, and other federal and state government officials as appropriate.

SUPPORTING AFFORDABLE PRESCRIPTION MEDICATION

WHEREAS, the National Black Caucus of State Legislators (NBCSL) has established policy supporting the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (ACA), as passed in Resolution BFI-11-22;

WHEREAS, the NBCSL adopted policy supporting out-of-pocket expense limits, as passed in Resolution LJE-11-04, which urges every state to examine the impact of limiting out-of-pocket expenses for patients’ medications and prescription drugs in all qualified health plans to be offered for sale to consumers purchasing individual coverage and to each employer providing employee group coverage in any of the four actuarial value levels of qualified health plans;

WHEREAS, specialty drugs are, in general, high-cost injectable, infused, oral, or inhaled medications that require close supervision and monitoring and are usually prescribed for patients with serious chronic diseases such as multiple sclerosis, rheumatoid arthritis, and cancer;

WHEREAS, insurers often charge different co-payments (the patient’s share of the cost of a prescription) for different medications, which results in medications being placed in tiers depending on whether they are generic, brand name preferred, brand name non-preferred, or a specialty drug;

WHEREAS, specialty drugs are often in the highest co-payment tier with the largest out-of-pocket costs for patients, sometimes as much as or even greater than 20-35 percent of the cost of the medication;

WHEREAS, cost-sharing on specialty medications can subject patients to onerous out-of-pocket costs on prescriptions for chronic, life-threatening conditions;

WHEREAS, nearly one in every two Americans has a chronic medical condition and African Americans and minorities are disproportionately affected by chronic disease;

WHEREAS, with the passage of the ACA, concerns about excessive out-of-pocket costs have been allayed partially, but patients in need of specialty drugs may not receive the full benefit of this protection since co-payment caps for each essential benefit category are not established by the Act and it is unknown whether they will be established through regulation;

WHEREAS, in addition, the Act does not establish levels of cost-sharing by type of drug and it is unknown whether this will be addressed through regulation;

WHEREAS, insurers may seek to manage the use of expensive drugs by assigning greater co-pay amounts and percentages to specialty medications;

WHEREAS, plans grandfathered by the ACA are eligible to be exempt from certain requirements, including the out-of-pocket cap;

WHEREAS, protection from excessive out-of-pocket costs may be absent for patients in many of these plans; and

WHEREAS, high drug co-pays for patients with chronic, life-threatening conditions are likely to act as a barrier to medication access and may result in serious harm based on disease or disability.
THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that because provisions of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act do not specifically or completely address the issue, the National Black Caucus of State Legislators should promote, support, and encourage addressing excessive out-of-pocket costs for specialty medication by state legislative or regulatory action;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that through either the health insurance mandate process or through state authority to certify qualified health plans in health benefit exchanges, plans should be prohibited from creating specialty tiers within their drug formularies and from requiring payment of a percentage cost of prescriptions;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the amount of patient cost-sharing should be limited and overall out-of-pocket expenses for enrollees capped;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that any efforts should be carefully monitored, since it is likely that additional legislative provisions may be needed to safeguard patient access to specialty medications;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this resolution does not endorse any particular specialty drug or even the overall use of specialty drugs; and

BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, members of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate, and other federal and state government officials as appropriate.

IN SUPPORT OF RESTORING JUDICIAL DISCRETION

WHEREAS, the 2009 United States’ rate of incarceration was the highest in the world at 748 inmates per 100,000 people;

WHEREAS, as of 2009, 1 in every 135 adults in America has been incarcerated;

WHEREAS, African Americans and Latinos are disproportionately represented throughout the United States criminal justice system from arrest to sentencing, even in the use of the death penalty;

WHEREAS, in 2009, one in nine African American males aged 25-29 was in prison or jail, as were one in twenty-seven Latino males, and one in sixty Caucasian males;

WHEREAS, African American males have a 32 percent chance of serving a prison sentence within their lifetime, Latino males have a 17 percent chance and Caucasian males a 6 percent chance;

WHEREAS, mandatory minimum sentences have disproportionately impacted African American defendants and a study by the United States Sentencing Commission of federal sentences found that African Americans were 21 percent more likely to receive a mandatory minimum sentence than Caucasian defendants facing a similar charge;

WHEREAS, mandatory minimum sentences for illegal substance crimes reduce judicial discretion and can result in a one-size-fits-all sentencing framework that relies on statute rather than a defendant’s culpability;

WHEREAS, the National Black Caucus of State Legislators (NBCSL) has ratified policy on sentencing provisions including Resolution LJE-09-20 (Record Sealing for Non-Violent Criminals), Resolution LJE-11-03 (Reform of Prison-Based Census Counting), and Resolution LJE-08-13 (Urging Reform of the Juvenile Justice System and Expansion of Juvenile Justice Programs), the last of which addressed the disparity in sentencing regarding powder cocaine and crack cocaine offenses;

WHEREAS, the ubiquitous passage of mandatory minimum sentencing laws for illegal substance crimes has created a situation in which the more punitive statutory punishment “trumps” the ability of judges to determine a fair sentence;

WHEREAS, states are incentivized with federal financial assistance for enacting a variety of draconian provisions such as truth-in-sentencing laws, mandatory minimums, and life sentencing without parole for drug crimes;

WHEREAS, mandatory minimum sentences have been proven not to reduce drug use, but to result in lengthy prison terms that contribute to overcrowding; and

WHEREAS, state budgets can no longer sustain the high cost of incarcerating more people for longer periods of time.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the National Black Caucus of State Legislators (NBCSL) employs its full influence in the repeal of certain mandatory minimum sentences for illegal substance crimes when it can be shown that the substance crime was non-violent in nature, and without evidence there was intent to distribute the substance to another under the age of 25;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL advocates the elimination of mandatory minimum sentences for illegal substance crimes when it can be definitively shown that the substance crime was completely non-violent in nature and without evidence there was intent to distribute the substance to another under the age of 25, and thereby encourage the use of some judicial discretion to restore fairness to state criminal justice systems; and

BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, members of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate, and other federal and state government officials as appropriate.

RECOGNIZING THE NEED TO EMPHASIZE EDUCATION OVER INCARCERATION

WHEREAS, the National Black Caucus of State Legislators (NBCSL), the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), the National Black Police Association (NBPA), Blacks In Government (BIG), and Law Enforcement Against Prohibition (LEAP) have issued statements and resolutions calling for an end to America’s “War on Drugs” and profligate prison spending;

WHEREAS, according to the NAACP, the United States is home to 2.3 million prisoners and accounts for five percent of the world’s population, yet houses twenty-five percent of the world’s prisoners;

WHEREAS, one-quarter of the 2.3 million people behind bars in the United States have been convicted of non-violent, drug-related offenses, and, as a result of the War on Drugs, have been mandated prison sentences rather than drug rehabilitation or diversion programs;

WHEREAS, BIG and LEAP have noted that the War on Drugs has placed African Americans behind bars for drug offenses at more than ten times the rate of Caucasians, and African Americans constitute 53.5 percent of all persons who have entered prison due to a drug conviction, despite the fact that they are no more likely than Caucasians to use or sell drugs;

WHEREAS, many of those incarcerated have low levels of educational attainment, high levels of unemployment, and often are victims of substance abuse;

WHEREAS, according to the Pew Center on the States, over the past two decades, funding for prisons has grown at a rate six times higher than funding for higher education;

WHEREAS, the construction of more prisons has not reduced recidivism and has not increased public safety;

WHEREAS, as states and municipalities are facing budgetary shortfalls, teachers are facing layoffs, schools are closing, extracurricular programs are being eliminated, and class sizes are increasing;

WHEREAS, low-performing schools in poor, African-American and Latino communities serve as a pipeline for the prison system;

WHEREAS, in April of 2011, the NAACP published a report called “Misplaced Priorities: Over Incarcerate, Under Educate,” in which it revealed that more than 65 percent of the lowest-performing schools in Houston, Los Angeles, and Philadelphia are in neighborhoods with the highest rates of incarceration;

WHEREAS, in major cities with large black populations such as Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, and Atlanta, high school dropout rates approach, and in some cases, surpass 50 percent;

WHEREAS, certain communities bear a greater burden for incarcerated populations, and in Los Angeles, for example, more than a billion dollars is spent every year to imprison people from neighborhoods where nearly 20 percent of the city’s residents live;
WHEREAS, similarly, in Philadelphia, taxpayers spend nearly $290 million on the imprisonment of residents from neighborhoods that represent just over one-quarter of the city’s population;

WHEREAS, a lack of educational opportunities leaves less advantaged citizens with fewer options to feed their families and increases the odds they will resort to drugs or crime to survive;

WHEREAS, the War on Drugs, the growth in prison spending, and cuts to education are tearing at the fabric of the black community; and

WHEREAS, an adequate and affordable education is necessary if Americans hope to maintain a healthy and productive society.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the National Black Caucus of State Legislators (NBCSL) urges federal, state, and local governments to choose investments in education over incarceration where possible, while maintaining funding to properly care for those that are incarcerated;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL calls for investigations at the state and federal level for solutions to eliminate the arrest and incarceration of African Americans, Latinos, and other racial and ethnic groups at extraordinarily disparate rates for non-violent drug offenses;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL calls on state and federal governments to review and eliminate biased law enforcement operations, practices, and policies;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL urges legislators to devise cost-effective, common-sense alternatives to prison for non-violent offenders, including reforms such as parole, earned time and early release, drug rehabilitation and drug court, modification of mandatory sentencing laws, community-based prevention programs, and education, job training, and reentry programs;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL fully supports a wide range of programs that aid communities in ending recidivism; examples include but are not limited to Promise Neighborhoods, Second Chance Act Grants, Byrne Grants, Weed and Seed Grant Violence Against Women Act Grants, Reintegration of Ex-offenders Grant, the Pathways out of Poverty Program, Community Services Block Grant, Child Care and Development Block Grant, and the Substance Abuse Block Grant;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL asks the United States Congress to increase funding to these programs and put more funding into early intervention in the lives of at-risk youth, as that funding is the best way to mitigate prison costs;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL calls for the full funding of the Second Chance Act, as its grant programs comprise the best federal funding mechanism targeting recidivism reduction;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the NBCSL reiterates its full support for legislation, such as the Youth Promise Act as introduced by United States Congressman Bobby Scott, as the best way to aid in early intervention to help America’s youth avoid prison;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the chair of each state legislative black caucus, the presidents of the National Conference of State Legislatures and the Council of State Governments, and the presiding officers of all 50 state legislatures including the chairs of each committee having jurisdiction over education and prisons; and
BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, members of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate, and other federal and state government officials as appropriate.

WHEREAS, the National Association of School Psychologists (NASP) has indicated that bullying is the most common type of violence with 15-30 percent of students involved either as bullies or victims of bullying;

WHEREAS, the National Center for Education Statistics cited that in 2010, one in seven students in kindergarten through 12th grade was either a bully or a victim of bullying;

WHEREAS, bullying involves the following three characteristics: 1) an imbalance of power—people who bully use their power to control or harm and those being bullied have a difficult time defending themselves; 2) intent to cause harm—actions done by accident are not bullying; the person bullying has a goal to cause harm; and 3) repetition—incidents of bullying happen to the same person repeatedly by the same person or group;

WHEREAS, experts have categorized bullying as direct and indirect, with direct bullying being more often associated with boys and indirect bullying being more often associated with girls: direct bullying includes shoving, slapping, punching, spitting, and tripping while indirect bullying includes taunts, name-calling, threats, gossip/rumor-spreading, theft, cyber-bullying, and ostracism;

WHEREAS, according to NASP, the frequency and severity of bullying tends to increase when children observe other family members who display bullying tendencies at home such as verbal abuse or physical punishment;

WHEREAS, according to a joint study by the University of Washington and Indiana University, children exposed to violence in the home were more likely to engage in bullying than those not exposed to violence in the home;

WHEREAS, a study published in the journal Pediatrics found that men who were frequent bullies in school were four times as likely to abuse their partner;

WHEREAS, the American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry states that bullies identified by age 8 are six times more likely to be convicted of a crime by age 24, and five times more likely to end up with serious criminal records by age 30, if there is no intervention;

WHEREAS, the impact on victims of bullying is both physical and mental: headaches and backaches, abdominal pains, problems sleeping, eating disorders, drug and alcohol abuse, fear that results in running away, and depression often leading to suicidal ideation as well as attempted and completed suicide;

WHEREAS, a number of mental health outcomes for bullying victims are directly related to student achievement: poor concentration, nightmares, fatigue, mood swings and irritability, shame and loss of self-confidence, anxiety and panic attacks, and school absenteeism;
WHEREAS, suicide is the third leading cause of death among young people, and bullying victims are 200-900 percent more likely to commit suicide according to a study conducted by Yale University;

WHEREAS, the United States Departments of Health & Human Services, Education, and Justice have partnered to provide a valuable public service in establishing www.stopbullying.gov;

WHEREAS, the NBCSL applauds the FY2010-FY2015 Strategic Plan to stop bullying published by the United States Department of Human Health & Services;

WHEREAS, The White House hosted a conference on bullying in March of 2011;

WHEREAS, in September 2011, the Second Annual Summit on Combating Bullying was hosted by the United States Department of Education’s Office of Safe and Drug-Free Schools in conjunction with the Departments of Justice, Health and Human Services (HHS), Defense, Agriculture, and Interior, the Federal Trade Commission, the White House Initiative on Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders, and the National Council on Disability;

WHEREAS, there is a quantifiable link between the severity and frequency of bullying and the provision of effective after-school programs aimed at youth that address self-esteem, teen pregnancy, smoking/substance abuse, recidivism, conflict resolution, and restorative justice;

WHEREAS, schools that receive federal funding (including colleges and universities) are required by federal law to address discrimination on a person’s protected characteristics or status;

WHEREAS, school districts may violate both civil rights statutes and the United States Department of Education’s regulations when bullying/peer harassment based on race, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender expression, or disability is sufficiently serious that it creates a hostile environment and when such harassment is encouraged, tolerated, not adequately addressed, or ignored by school employees; and

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the National Black Caucus of State Legislators (NBCSL) believes that school bullying policies and state legislation on bullying should

(a) define bullying, including cyber-bullying;

(b) enumerate populations that may be most impacted by bullying;

(c) prohibit bullying (and cyber-bullying) with grade-appropriate discipline for the child and referrals for the victim to appropriate medical, mental health, and community-based services;

(d) inform school personnel, students, parents, and community members of the policies as well as provide ongoing professional development and training to prevent, identify, and respond to bullying and potential suicide;

(e) enable caretakers and require school personnel to report suspected bullying;

(f) require school administrators to investigate reports of bullying;
(g) implement bullying prevention and intervention programs that allow for collaboration with families; and
